TRAFFIC RELIEF PLAN

JOIN US FOR THE TRAFFIC RELIEF PLAN INDUSTRY FORUM

Delivering on his commitment to provide innovative transportation solutions for Maryland, Governor Larry Hogan has announced the administration's plans to add four new lanes to I-270, the Capital Beltway (I-495), and the Baltimore-Washington Parkway (MD 295).

The $9 billion Traffic Relief Plan for these three major state highways will reduce congestion for millions of drivers and mark the beginning of a historic and transformative effort to significantly improve the traffic conditions on some of Maryland's most traveled roads and highways for years to come.

As directed by the governor, the Maryland Department of Transportation (MDOT) has issued a Request for Information (RFI) for Congestion Relief Improvements for I-495 and I-270. The RFI is the first step in the process to bring accelerated project delivery – congestion relief sooner than traditional financing can provide; innovation – partnering with the best and brightest minds in the transportation industry; and capital – funds that can be used to bring statewide transportation benefits to Maryland.

Representatives from MDOT will be on-hand to discuss the project and review laws and guidelines.
